

Disclaimer:

Participation in the Paragliding Grand Prix competitions is at your own risk. By registering and participating in the events, you acknowledge and accept that paragliding, like any adventure sport, carries inherent risks and uncertainties.

The organizers, sponsors, and affiliated parties of the Paragliding Grand Prix shall not be held responsible or liable for any accidents, injuries, damages, losses, or any other incidents that may occur during the competitions. This includes, but is not limited to, accidents caused by weather conditions, equipment failure, pilot error, or any other unforeseen circumstances. By registering and participating in the Paragliding Grand Prix, you agree to release and hold harmless the organizers, sponsors, and affiliated parties from any liability or claims arising from your participation in the competitions.

By participating, you declare that you possess all the necessary licenses and certifications required to legally fly in the competitions. This includes holding valid paragliding licenses, medical insurance, and third-party liability insurance coverage. It is your responsibility to ensure that all necessary insurances are up to date and meet the legal requirements of the country in which the competitions take place.

All participants are solely responsible for their own safety and well-being throughout the duration of the competitions. It is each pilot's responsibility to ensure they have appropriate skills, experience, and equipment necessary to participate safely.

We strongly advise all participants to adhere to safety guidelines, practice responsible flying techniques, and make informed decisions while in the air. It is essential to assess personal abilities, consider the prevailing conditions, and exercise caution at all times.

We encourage all pilots to maintain the highest level of safety awareness, support each other, and enjoy the spirit of friendly competition in a responsible and respectful manner.
